International Agreements

Bandar Seri Begawan, Brunei, June 21 (Xinhua) - The people-to-people organizations from China and ASEAN countries signed a five-year action plan here, capital of Brunei to deepen and promote their cooperation and exchanges. The 2007-2012 action plan was signed by the China-ASEAN Association President Gu Xiulian, who is also vice-chairwoman of the Standing Committee of China's National People's Congress, and representatives from friendly associations of ten ASEAN countries when the Second Conference on the ASEAN-China People-to-People Friendship Organizations (CACPPFO) closed here. cooperation signed in Beijing last year during the First CACPPFO there. Under the plan, the people-to-people organizations from China and ASEAN countries will maintain regular bilateral exchanges of visit between their leaders and set up hotline links. The plan stresses that the existing cooperation mechanism between people-to-people organizations of China and ASEAN countries needs to be strengthened and expanded. Measures include recruiting more people-to-people organizations in the process and tapping more channels to enhance people-to-people contacts. The plan also stipulates that people-to-people organizations of China and ASEAN countries will work together to promote tourism in various forms of non-governmental activities, and promote exchanges of culture and arts and encourage cooperation in the field of sports. Hong Kong SAR Agreement with the Mainland (June 22)

Hong Kong, June 22 (Xinhua) - The Chinese mainland and Hong Kong signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to strengthen cooperation and exchanges in health and medical areas with an aim to raise the health care standard in both places.

Under the MOU signed by China's Minister of Health Gao Qiang and Hong Kong Secretary for Health, Welfare and Food York Chow, the two sides agreed to foster cooperation in various areas, including strengthening the flow of health and medical information and the notification and contingency cooperation system on infectious disease outbreaks and public health emergencies.

The two parties would also promote the exchange and cooperation on community health services between the mainland and Hong Kong.

Speaking at the signing ceremony, Chow said that since the establishment of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, exchanges and communication between Mainland and Hong Kong had become more and more frequent.

Close cooperation between the health authorities of the mainland and Hong Kong was vital in meeting the numerous new challenges in public health, he said.

"I believe that with the strong support of the ministry, the mainland and Hong Kong will continue to maintain their good partnership to strive for better public health protection. We will further enhance our communication and cooperation on the basis of the MOU," he added.

In addition, according to the MOU, the two sides would encourage medical and health professional groups and relevant institutions in the mainland and Hong Kong to share experience through seminars and training programmes.

Also, mutual cooperation on hospital management would be advanced through ways such as fostering exchange between hospital management experts and health care professionals, building partnership between hospitals and discussing the arrangement for effective referral of patients among the medical institutions in Hong Kong and the mainland. Measures of the People's Republic for the Administration of Partnership Enterprise Registration. (Decree No. 236 of the State Council of the PRC, promulgated on 19 November 1997, and revised according to the "Decision of the State Council on Amending the "Measures of the PRC for the Administration of Partnership Enterprise Registration". This law shall come into force as of the day of promulgation. (Decree No. 497 of the PRC State Council, signed by Wen Jiabao, Premier of the State Council, on 9 May 2007) The law consists of eight chapters with 49 articles. (Full text of the law and decision: RMRB, 15 Jun 07)

Regulations on Implementing Administrative Review Law of the People's Republic will be effective as of 1 August 2007. (Decree No. 499 of the PRC State Council, signed by Wen Jiabao, Premier of the State Council, on 8 June 2007) The regulations consist of seven chapters with 66 articles. (RMRB, 9 Jun 07)

BEIJING, June 8 (Xinhua) -- China's State Council on 8 June approved a new regulation designed to make it easier for the public to lodge complaints against what they deem unjust government decisions. According to the Regulation on Implementing Administrative Review Law, the public has the right to ask the government to review its actions and decisions that they believe have infringed upon their rights. "It is an important platform for China's administrative organs to solve disputes, ease social tension and strengthen inner monitoring," said an official with the State Council's legal office. To ensure officials do not pass the buck, the regulation also stipulates that government bodies at all levels must take petitions seriously or their chief officials may be sacked. The regulation is based on the Administrative Review Law China adopted in 1999, the official said. Since then an average of more than 80,000 disputes have been resolved every year. The official said that the new regulation would be a more efficient means for the public to file complaints to the government than compared with filing lawsuits and petitioning. "Many of the disputes are thus settled at grassroots and rudimentary level and do not have to go to courts," the official said. "It tightens the affinity between the government and the public, and helps improve the government image." The regulation will take effect on August 1. (XNA, 8 Jun 07)
