International Agreements

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (Xinhua) - China will join the Inter-American Development Bank as a donor member, building on its growing links with Latin America and the Caribbean. The Asian power will become the 48th member country in the Washington, DC-based IDB, the single largest source of long-term lending for the region, said the bank in a statement released on 23 October. ... China has agreed to contribute 350m dollars to the IDB Group to bolster key programmes at a time when the world economy is under duress. The funds would be distributed as follows:

- 125m dollars will go to the IDB's Fund for Special Operations, which provides soft loans to Bolivia, Guyana, Haiti, Honduras, and Nicaragua.
- 75m dollars will go to multiple IDB grant funds to strengthen the institutional capacity of the state, including municipal governments and private sector institutions.
- 75m dollars is for an equity fund to be administered by the Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC), which lends to small and mid-sized private businesses.
- 75m dollars is to be administered by the Multilateral Investment Fund, the IDB arm that focuses on microenterprises.

Over the past decade China has become an increasingly important commercial partner for many countries in this region. Trade between Latin America and the Caribbean and China jumped 13-fold since 1995, from 8.4bn dollars to 110bn dollars in 2007.

China is now this region's second biggest trading partner after the United States. In 1995 it was the 12th biggest, trailing Japan and Germany, among others. ...

China's entrance was approved by other member countries in a month-long voting process ended on Oct. 15. The 26 Latin American and Caribbean borrowing nations own 50.01 per cent of the IDB. The United States holds just over 30 per cent of the shares.

China will purchase 184 shares, or 0.004 per cent of the IDB's ordinary capital, which became available after the breakup of Yugoslavia. China will be the IDB's third East Asian member after Japan and South Korea, which joined in 1976 and 2005, respectively.

As an IDB member country, China will be represented at the Board of Executive Directors, sharing a chair with other donor nations. Executive directors oversee the day-to-day oversight operations, approve loans, establish policies and set interest rates, among other duties.

China will also have a seat on the Board of Governors, the IDB's top decision-making body. Governors, who are usually finance ministers or central bank presidents, meet once a year to review the bank's operations and make major policy decisions. Next year's meeting will be in Medellin, Colombia, marking the IDB's 50th anniversary.

The EU and China (together with the United States and Canada) have today [13 November] reached a landmark agreement on the treatment of financial information services in China. Financial information suppliers such as Thomson Reuters, Bloomberg and Dow Jones will in future benefit from a new regulatory framework that will help to ensure a level playing field for all operators in the Chinese market. The Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) signed today in Geneva addresses the concerns that had led the European Commission to launch WTO consultations on this matter in March 2008. The changes are due to be put in place by 1 June 2009.

EU Trade Commissioner Catherine Ashton said: "Today's agreement ensures that investors and market operators will be able to receive comprehensive and objective financial information. This shows what can be achieved when interested parties cooperate in search of solutions."

The agreement settles a WTO dispute that the EU had launched in March 2008 together with the US, and which was joined a few months later by Canada. The EU and China held WTO consultations in April this year, and had since then been engaged in a process of negotiation to try to find an amicable solution. The EU objected to requirements by China for all foreign financial information suppliers to operate through a specific agent designated by the Chinese government. The only agent was China Economic Information Service (CEIS), an entity controlled by Xinhua News Agency, which was also in competition with foreign suppliers of financial information.

The Chinese government has agreed today to put a new regulatory framework in place by 1 June 2009. Responsibility will pass from Xinhua News Agency to a new, independent regulator and the requirement for foreign suppliers to operate through an agent will be removed. China has also committed to ensuring adequate protection for business confidential information, and confirmed that foreign financial information suppliers will face no obstacles regarding setting up commercial establishment in China.

The EU is particularly satisfied that dialogue and negotiation in the WTO framework have delivered what should be considered a very good outcome for financial information suppliers and for China. The supply of comprehensive financial information is vital for transparent, orderly and globally competitive financial markets

(European Union Europa website, Brussels, 13 Nov 08, in BBC PF, 15 Nov 08)

... The EU and China on 17 November signed a renewed and extended Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) that will strengthen cooperation on product safety controls. The document, which was first signed in 2006, upgrades the existing RAPEX-China system (Rapid Alert System for dangerous goods) including clear obligations for quarterly reporting on enforcement actions to track down dangerous goods. The upgraded MoU will provide China, for the first time, with immediate access to the EU's Rapid Alert System for Feed and Food, and, in particular, to the system's notifications that concern China. ### Hong Kong SAR Agreement with Peru (Nov 20)

HONG KONG, Nov. 21 (Xinhua) - Hong Kong and Peru signed a Cooperation Arrangement on Trade and Investment Facilitation on Thursday in Peru, a press release from the Information Services Department of Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR) government said on Friday.

According to the press release, Hong Kong Secretary for Commerce and Economic Development Rita Lau signed the cooperation arrangement with Peruvian Foreign Trade and Tourism Minister Mercedes Araoz Fernandez. The signing ceremony took place at the margins of the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation's Ministerial Meeting in Lima, Peru.

Lau said both sides had concluded the cooperation arrangement following the signing of the Joint Statement on Strengthening Trade and Economic Relations between the two economies on May 30.

"The successful signing of the cooperation arrangement will be instrumental in fostering closer trade and economic ties between the two sides," she said, adding that the cooperation arrangement laid the foundation for future discussion of a bilateral free trade agreement (FTA) between Hong Kong and Peru.

The Cooperation Arrangement on Trade and Investment Facilitation mainly aims to facilitate and promote bilateral trade in areas including exhibition and trade fairs, financial services, investment, tourism, rail, maritime and logistics transportation, and sanitary and phytosanitary measures.

It also covers cooperation between the two economies in areas of intellectual property rights, customs and competition-related matters, as well as technical assistance and capacity-building in areas of mutual interests. (XNA, 21 Nov 08)

Hong Kong SAR Agreement with Shenzhen (Nov 13)

Cross-border co-operation between Shenzhen and Hong Kong would be boosted under five new agreements signed on Thursday, Chief Secretary Henry Tang Ying-yen said. Mr Tang said Shenzhen has been one of Hong Kong's best partners for the last three decades. It was important to integrate the resources for the two places. Mr Tang said the two cities had discussed working more closely together to combat the financial crisis. "After the meeting, the Shenzhen government has agreed that it is of high importance to assist Hong Kong based SMEs to cope with the current crisis. "They will study and speed up the introduction of measures to help them [Hong Kong SMEs] minimise their operating costs, open up internal markets in China and help them with financing," he said. Mr Tang said the agreements they reached on Thursday would also cover the development of infrastructure, the Lok Ma Chau Loop, tourism, hi-tech industries and education. (SCMP, 13 Nov 08)

China Mainland with Taiwan (Nov 04)

TAIPEI, Nov. 4 (Xinhua) - The heads of the two main negotiating bodies of the Chinese mainland and Taiwan at their first ever summit in Taipei signed agreements on direct shipping and flights, mail services and food safety.

The mainland's Association for Relations Across the Taiwan Straits (ARATS) president, Chen Yunlin, and the Taiwan-based Straits Exchange Foundation (SEF) chairman, Chiang Pin-kung, also discussed an increase in the number of mainland tourists to Taiwan, joint efforts to deal with the global financial crisis, and expanding the economic exchanges.

The ARATS and the SEF agreed to open direct shipping services and set up direct air routes across the Taiwan Straits. They also agreed to start chartered cargo flights, increase the destinations and frequency of chartered flights, and expand their services from weekend to weekdays.

Direct flights between Taipei and Beijing would only take two hours, and between Taipei and Shanghai about 80 minutes.

Under the agreements, direct mail services, including letter and parcel deliveries, express mail and postal remittances, will be available across the strait, while other postal services will also be strengthened.

Both sides will provide each other with food safety updates and food trade information, and establish a mechanism to deal with major food safety incidents.

"With the four agreements, direct transport and mail services that compatriots on both sides have been longing for over the past 30 years have become a reality, and will provide more convenient channels for cross-Straits economic exchanges," said Chen.

Chen said the ARATS and the SEF would focus on discussions about cross-Straits financial collaboration in the next stage of talks, while expanding cultural and social exchanges would also be on the agenda.

He said the mainland was considering a plan to allow residents across the mainland to travel to Taiwan.

Since July 20, only residents in the municipalities of Beijing, Tianjin, Shanghai and Chongqing, and the provinces of Liaoning, Jiangsu, Zhejiang, Fujian, Shandong, Hubei, Guangdong, Yunnan and Shaanxi have been allowed to visit Taiwan in groups, under an agreement between the mainland and Taiwan concerned authorities.

Chen said tourism companies on both sides suggested that the tourist groups travelling to Taiwan should be composed of a minimum of five people, while the current rule was at least 10.

He said the ARATS agreed with the suggestion, and hoped that with more chartered flights on weekdays, the number of mainland tourists to Taiwan would increase.

Chen said the mainland would send two giant pandas as gifts to Taiwan by the end of the year. The other gift would be nyssaceae seed, an endangered flowering plant that grows in Sichuan Province. He hoped that they would be sown in Taiwan soil.

On behalf of the ARATS, Chen is to accept two rare animals from Taiwan. One is an indigenous goat with the scientific name of naemorhedus swinhoei, the other is a spotted deer.

Chen said he would carry the affection of the Taiwan people back to the mainland. (XNA, 4 Nov 08; SCMP, 5 Nov 08))

Negotiators for the mainland and Taiwan signed agreements on 4 November tripling the amount of direct cross-strait charter flights to 108 per week, shortening air routes and opening dozens of seaports for direct cargo links. ... The agreements mean there can be direct flights seven days a week, compared with four days in another landmark agreement signed earlier this year. They will let direct cargo shipments pass between 11 Taiwan seaports and 63 in the mainland, tax free. They also allow 60 cargo flights per month and establish a mechanism for ensuring food safety. (SCMP, 4 Nov 08)

On 4 November, Chen Yunlin, President of the Association for Relations Across the Taiwan Straits, signed the Cross-Strait Food Safety Agreement with Straits Exchange Foundation Chairman Chiang Pin-kung. The full text of the agreement is as follows:
